The endless list of attractions on offer cater for visitors of all ages too. # MAURITIAN MAJESTY

Mauritius constantly draws the most discerning luxury travel enthusiasts. Situated just north of the Tropic of Capricorn, off the coast of Africa in the Indian Ocean, it is enveloped by white sandy beaches, pristine blue lagoons, palm trees and a stunning coral reef – perfect for lazing the day away in paradise.

Tumbling waterfalls and National Parks, home to wonderful wildlife, await for the more adventurous. We recommend a trip to the stunning Tamarind Falls, the 90m high Chamarel waterfall or the Seven Colours of the Earth – three natural phenomena not to be missed. With the water 70 metres deep a kilometre from the coast, Mauritius is also a hot spot for deep sea fishing, particularly blue and black marlin, shark and yellow tuna.

Worship of a sacred kind takes place at Triolet, the longest village on the island and home to Mauritius' biggest Hindu temple, the Maheswarnath. First built in 1819, it's bone white, a contrast of the many other bold coloured temples on the island. It was built in honour of the Gods Shiva, Krishna, Vishnu, Muruga, Brahma and Ganesha, and is guarded by a wooden tiger at its entrance.

The island also offers remarkable colonial architecture and ruins, and a growing number of duty-free shops. Plus, its rich cultural history of French, Creole, Oriental and Asian influences is reflected in its cuisine – a mixture of spicy curries, tropical fruits, seafood specialities and Chinese delicacies.

Anything's possible in this ambitious, glitzy city; massive man-made islands; championship golf courses in the desert and ski slopes in a shopping mall. Spas, shopping, dhow dinner cruises and even a spot of golf... your options are endless. Rugby Sevens perhaps, a spot of horse racing or even tennis?

One of the main allures of Dubai is the year-round sunshine and the warm waters of the Arabian Gulf – Dubai's stunning shoreline boasts numerous chic beach clubs, where you can enjoy watersports or swim in their stunning pools, watch the sunset, rent secluded cabanas and enjoy food and drink – all complemented by first-class personal service. Vibrant, welcoming, historic and cultured makes Thailand one of the most exciting places to visit, and there is much more to discover than you might first expect. Get a sense of peace and tranquillity as you escape to many of the picturesque long white beaches that Thailand has to offer. Disconnect from the real world as you step onto the sands and relax with a drink in hand under swaying palm trees. These tropical escapes epitomise the beauty of what Thailand is famous for. If secluded coves and azure seas are your thing, Koh Samui is perfect. On the peaceful side of the gulf the quiet beaches and fishing towns of Hua Hin and Cha-Am provide an idyllic retreat both relaxing and charming.
